GOOD for you.

My Nicholas was an outgoing young man who always had a smile on his face. He was an excellent student and a wonderful athlete. When he died suddenly of a heart ailment at the age of 17, I was asked about allowing him to be a donor. Nicholas had asked me about donation when he got his driver's license. I had always been a donor and when I told him it was a good thing, he agreed. He would have been very pleased to know that he was able to help someone after he died.

Please make your decision to donate life, and then tell your family!
